Texarkana Tribute to Clyde E. Palmer
City Water Issue

Your editor was at Texarkana country club Thursday night for special event—Texarkana's testimonial dinner to Clyde E. Palmer. It was a community's heartfelt tribute to the man who came there back in 1900, took over a struggling newspaper, and grew up with the town and countryside until today he is a prosperous and nationally-known figure.

Congratulations poured in on him from all sides, including one from Amos G. Carter of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram which drew laughter and applause. From Mr. Carter's message the audience learned that in his early days Mr. Palmer had been credit manager for a Fort Worth department store, and the sum and substance of the Carter message was that ever since Mr. Palmer departed from Fort Worth 45 years ago both the Star-Telegram and Fort Worth had grown mightily.

And of course the theme of Thursday night's testimonial dinner was the development of Texarkana and southwest Arkansas and east Texas, and the part Mr. Palmer has played in community service for nearly half a century.

It was a striking tribute to a man from his own town . . . and a proud moment.

The municipal water problem is general and more or less critical in Arkansas, and some cities are going to work on it.

Today's issue of the Nashville News reports that North Little Rock housewives are complaining because every afternoon the water pressure drops sharply.

DeQueen has just authorized a $115,000 issue of revenue bonds to expand its water and sewage system.

Nashville completed a new sewage plant in 1950, with half of its 20-year bond issue already retired—but the Howard county-seat is still plagued by a water shortage, and is searching for the right answer.

Texarkana has obtained permission from Austin state authorities to tap Red river if necessary to obtain industrial water. Earlier arrangements provide for additional domestic consumer water from Texarkana Reservoir on Sulphur river.

These are obvious suggestions that Hope, too, should be thinking and planning against the time when we can no longer depend on deep well water but will have to go out and develop surface-water resources. We have no industrial water at all, and eventually we will have to act if only to protect the future of the domestic consumer.

British Refuse to Let U. S. Search Ships

LONDON (UP)—The foreign office said today Britain will refuse to let American warships stop and search British merchant vessels for arms shipments bound for Guatemala.

British refusal was expected to be followed by Europe-wide rejection of the American proposal intended to prevent gun-running to the Central American republic which the United States charges is Communist-tainted.

Britain, while turning down the request, promised to "cooperate to the fullest extent possible" under British and international law in seeking to prevent British ships from carrying arms to Guatemala.

France, Denmark and Norway were expected to take similar positions. West Germany was believed the only nation likely to agree to the American request.

Shipping interests angrily charged the U. S. plan would violate the time-honored principle of freedom of the seas in peacetime.

The influential Manchester Guardian bitterly attacked the Washington request under a headline: "The new colonialism."

"This is carrying things too far," the Guardian said bitterly.

In the first place, there is not proof that Guatemala is really Communist," the second, the other states of the American continent have not yet formally put themselves at the complete disposal of the United States . . . who can talk of colonialism now?"

LIQUOR STORE ROBBED
JACKSONVILLE (P)—Three young gunmen robbed a liquor store near here last night of $381 and whisky valued at $1,500.

The operators of the store, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Carter, were tied up by the robbers who threatened to kill them if they sounded an alarm within 30 minutes after the bandits fled.

Mrs. Carter said she finally worked a hand free from the ropes, got a knife and freed her husband.

The store is located six miles north of here on U. S. Highway 67.

Stage Set for Overthrow of Guatemala Reds

By SAM SUMMERLIN

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (UP)—Armed Guatemalan exiles were reported missing along their jittery homelands frontier with Honduras amid indications today may be a day for a revolt against President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman's Communist-influenced regime.

The belief stemmed in part from Guatemalan Ambassador Amadeo Chinchilla, who said he had received reports that resistance forces would launch a rebellion today.

Reports from censorship-blanketed Guatemala said authorities there were readying a massive public demonstration today. Ostensibly this was to show solid support for the government, but observers here also interpreted it as a possible move to mobilize pro-Arbenz forces in case of a revolt.

Dispatch from Guatemala said 100,000 laborers were expected to parade through the streets of Guatemala City.

Here in the Honduran capital, armed khaki-clad men—apparently recruits for the exile resistance movement directed from here by Carlos Castillo Armas—continued to leave the city, presumably for the border.

A two-engine transport plane with drawn curtains alighted a dozen men out of Tegucigalpa last night. The group carried side arms and lugged a radio and several wooden crates aboard.

Earlier reports said an armed boat pulled out of the Honduran port of La Ceiba and headed for Guatemala. Informants said it was moving into position for a strike against the major Guatemalan port of Puerto Barrios.

Col. Rodolfo Mendoza, former chief of the Guatemalan air force, who fled here last week to take part in Castillo Armas' movement, was interviewed over the exiles' secret radio last night. This indicated he might already be near the border.

Castillo Armas, however, was still at his headquarters in Tegucigalpa yesterday. In a rallying call from there, he said his forces "will not cease our victorious fight until we eradicate communism and expell Arbenz and his followers from the sacred soil of Guatemala."

There was no accurate estimate of the number under Castillo Armas' command. One of his aides said the resistance forces have 5,000 men poised near the border. Chinchilla said some 300 men have been spotted near the frontier.

McCaskill Soldier Is Back in U. S.

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—Thirty-three more Arkansas servicemen were enroute home today from tours of duty in the Far East.

The transport Gen. William Wei gel arrived Wednesday at San Francisco, Calif., with 24 Arkansas soldiers aboard, and the transport James O'Hara is due at Seattle Wash., Sunday with nine more.

Arkansians who arrived aboard the Gen. William Weigel: Capt. James E. Baker, Plainview; Capt. Elbert Carter Jr., Sheridan; PFC Lott Cherry Jr., Little Rock; SFC James F. Gunmen Just Make Themselves at Home

BOSTON (P)—Four masked gunmen invaded a Brighton district apartment last night, bound a husband and wife, enjoyed the Marciano-Charles fight on radio, ate a snack, drank liquor and then carted off almost $10,000 worth of antiques and silverware.

While the four gunmen had the run of the apartment for some three hours, Alex Levook, 40, his wife, Selma, 36, lay gagged and bound with belts, drapery cords and sheets.

The Levkoofs said the men warned them they would get shot if they made any moves.

Radford Says Red Threat Grows Daily

LOS ANGELES (P)—The United States, says Adm. Arthur Radford, is confronted with "the diabolical enmity of international communism" and the threat is growing.

The chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff recalled last night President Eisenhower's warning that American freedom is threatened so long as "the world Communist conspiracy exists in its present scope, power and hostility."

"Today, the threat seems even more intense," Radford said in addressing the national convention of the American Red Cross.

The admiral spoke at the concluding session of the three-day meeting. Earlier, the organization's national chairman had some more to say about cities which accept Red Cross money when disaster strikes but fail to make reimbursements to the relief agency from supplemental funds raised locally.

This was a subject which touched off a cross-country controversy Monday night.

Radford, in discussing the Communist menace, termed Red China "obviously empire-bound seeking not so much an 'Asia for Asians' as they claim but seeking instead what might be called a 'Red Asia for Asiatic Reds'."

They want all of Asia incorporated into a Red Asia, one that is a basic part of the long-term Communist dream of one "big Red world."

The military situation of free Asia and southwest Pacific nations could be improved materially, he said, "by an effective Southeast Asia collective security arrangement."

"Positive collective actions by countries which have vital interests in that area would help pre-empt building in that part of the world," he said. "Such actions would help pave the way for building that peaceful world which is the aim of free societies everywhere."

Decision Up to Judge in Divorce Case

BURBANK, Calif. (P)—The divorce trial of handsome Jess Barker, seeking half of Susan Hayward's wealth, may end today.

Superior Judge Herbert V. Walker presumably will take the case under advisement for time to study the testimony.

Barker, in contesting his movie queen wife's action, contends he is entitled to half their community property. Attorneys stipulated that Miss Hayward's assets total $293,319 plus a million-dollar film contract paying her $5,000 a week.

An accountant, Miss Elva McGuire, testified yesterday that in 1951 Barker earned $31.75 while Miss Hayward grossed $163,692.05, and in 1952 Barker earned $346.50 and Miss Hayward, $210,376.50.

Barker testified he has earned $1,500 in the last 18 months and his bank account totals $5,000.

Miss Hayward already has offered him $100,000, payable in the form of alimony over a 10-year period. He spurned that offer although his counsel said the figure would be acceptable in a lump sum as community property.

The mathematical testimony followed testimony by Barker that Miss Hayward once put out a lighted cigarette by rubbing it in his eye. He declined to elaborate other than to say the incident climaxed an argument.

Barker also denied that he held his wife's head under water as charged earlier by the actress.

"I merely dropped her in the pool," he stated.

A dramatic moment in the trial came when Rahn asked the actor if he was still in love with his wife. He looked straight at his wife, who cast her eyes downward, and replied: "Yes."

Mendes' Victory Damages U. S. Far East Policy

By EDWARD M. KORRY

GENEVA (UP)—Western officials said today the French political victory of Premier Pierre Mendes-France gave the Geneva Conference a new start but damaged U. S. Far East policies.

There was considerable speculation that the endorsement of Mendes-France early this morning by the French National Assembly would cause the Churchill-Eisenhower meeting in Washington next week to be called off.

Diplomats from all nations stayed up until dawn to hear results of the balloting. Their reactions varied from the gloominess of the American delegates to the cheer of the Chinese Communists.

The British were heartened. The anti-Communist Indo-Chinese were terrified or uncertain. Communist Indo-Chinese were dizzy with delight. The Russians were confident. French career diplomats were nervous.

British officials virtually ruled out any chance of Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden going to Washington with Prime Minister Winston Churchill at a moment when the curtain was ringing up again on a new version of what had been a dull drama on Indo-China.

The big question was: Should the United States dissociate itself from any solution which would carve up Indo-China or should it accept a formula for ending the war and avoiding the risk of intervention?

The Communists have been toying with the French delegation here for eight weeks, blowing first hot and then cold in an obvious effort to undermine French public confidence in outgoing Foreign Minister Georges Bidault's attempts to negotiate.

Mendes-France was believed to be in favor of a deal based on partition of Viet Nam, Indo-China's largest state, and evacuation of Red invaders from the Indo-China kingdom so Cambodia and Laos.

The British delegation is now openly favorable to such a settlement despite the official policy of opposition to the division of Viet Nam, major battleground which has claimed 100,000 French Union battle casualties.

Woman Vows to Continue Freedom Fight

By WARREN ROGERS JR.

WASHINGTON (P)—Lolita Leon, convicted with three men for wounding five congressmen but facing a lighter sentence, swore today she will continue to fight for Puerto Rican independence.

"What I thought was the end may be the beginning," she replied from her cell to written questions from newsmen.

"If all my blood had spilled it would have splashed away decadence and inertia . . . I hope no more of my people will have died. My country is going to be free."

The slight, 34-year-old brunette, much of the fire apparently gone out of her when the two-week trial ended yesterday, was acquitted of five charges of intent to kill. She had been found guilty Wednesday of five counts of assault with a dangerous weapon.

Her three fellow members of the radical Nationalist party of Puerto Rico—Rafael Cancel Miranda, 23, Andres Figueroa Cordero, 20, and Irving Flores Rodriguez, 20, were convicted Wednesday on all 10 counts.

Five More Hot Days in Prospect

By United Press

Five more hot days appeared to be on the Arkansas weather menu today.

The extended forecast, Friday through Wednesday, said that temperatures will average three to four degrees above the normal maximum of 90 degrees and the normal minimum of 70 degrees. Rainfall will be moderate, mostly in scattered showers early next week.

Says Integrity of Army Not at Stake Now

By ELTON C. FAY

QUANTICO, Va. (UP)—Secretary of the Army Stevens, looking back on the long and bitter days of his dispute with Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), voiced confidence today that "the integrity of the Army no longer is at stake."

He also made it plain he intends to decline an invitation to an "after-hearings cocktail party" to be given Monday by Sen. Murdrt (R-SD) for participants on both sides—and expects no Army personnel will attend.

Murdrt presided over the 36-day hearings, which ended in Washington yesterday.

Stevens, here for a four-day meeting of top Defense Department and armed forces officials, also told newsmen:

"I am absolutely confident that there will be no abuse of Army personnel, in or out of uniform, who appear from now on before McCarthy's Subcommittee hunting subcommittee. One of the background issues in the row with the senator was Stevens' contention that a general who appeared before McCarthy had been abused."

Stevens said he has no intention "whatsoever" of resigning but proposes to serve as long as he is of "service to the country."

"I feel that the integrity of the Army was at stake. We've been through that now. It must be abundantly clear to everyone that the Army is just as interested and active in 'riding itself' of subversives as anyone else in the United States."

The Americans were Air Force technicians engaged in servicing French planes in Indo-China. Their capture first was reported without official confirmation yesterday from Hong Kong.

O'Daniel, chief of the U. S. military mission in Indo-China, took off from Saigon for Tourane Air Base, where the captured men were stationed in an effort to find out how the Reds seized the men. The Americans were reported by authorities in Saigon to have been seized by the Communists at a small deserted beach near the Tourane base.

Later an Indo-China farmer loyal to the government said he saw the Americans marching south in a column of French Senegalese prisoners guarded closely by Communist soldiers.

More than 200 American Air Force mechanics have been in Indo-China for several months servicing and repairing U. S. supplied fighter, bombs and transports. Air-lifting supplies and men to distant battlefronts.

French authorities feared the five would be used for propaganda purposes to "prove" the United States had intervened in the Indo-China war.

The U. S. embassy in Saigon refused to release any of the captured men's names or home addresses until relatives have been notified.

Cherry Not to Spend Much
LITTLE ROCK (P)—Gov. Cherry said today that he doesn't expect "to spend a great amount of money" in his race for re-nomination this year.

"I haven't made a lot of effort to raise funds because I haven't needed them," the governor told a news conference this morning.

Cherry is seeking the Democratic nomination—a tantamount to election in Arkansas to a second term. He is opposed by Orval Faubus of Huntsville, State Sen. Guy Jones of Conway, Gus McMillan of Sheridan and J. M. Meyers of Springdale.

The governor said he has selected a location for his campaign headquarters, but that he doesn't know when it will be opened. He didn't say where the office will be located.

Cherry also said that in his trips around the state he had found little public interest in politics.

Palmer Honored at a Dinner
TEXARKANA (P)—C. E. Palmer, Arkansas publisher and businessman, last night was honored by leading businessmen from Texarkana and southwest Arkansas.

Palmer received the tribute for his "long years in business in Texarkana and Arkansas."

The banquet was held at the Texarkana Country Club.

McClellan Asks Quick Ruling, Housecleaning of McCarthy's Staff

Executive Action Asked Due to 'Alleged Threats'

By RAYMOND LAHR and HERBERT FOSTER

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) today demanded an immediate "housecleaning" of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's investigating subcommittee staff because of "alleged threats" and failure of some members to get Defense Department security clearance.

McClellan also said that a stormy closed session of the subcommittee "has left the public branch of the committee in a state of confusion" against executive action who were "principals" in the Army-McCarthy hearings.

McClellan was asked if he referred to Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens and Army Counsel John G. Adams when he said executive should take appropriate action against executive officials.

"They are principals in this, aren't they?" he said.

Roy M. Cohn, chief counsel for McCarthy's subcommittee, also appeared to be target of McClellan's demand for "housecleaning."

But McClellan would not specify any names.

McClellan's statement to the subcommittee came in the wake of high blarneying by an informant of the 36-day McCarthy hearings yesterday.

The two Democratic Senators, Symington (Mo.) and McClellan (Ark.) (Wash.) sponsored the statement. McClellan said the "housecleaning" was a "housecleaning" of the McCarthy subcommittee staff.

Potter, in a press statement issued yesterday during the closing minutes of the hearings, said "top employees" involved in the "housecleaning" should be fired.

Both Symington and McClellan said two members of the subcommittee staff applied for clearance more than a year ago and it has not been granted.

"If you don't grant it, you're not doing your job," Symington said in answer to a question as to whether it had been refused.

The staff members were not identified.

Symington said one applied for defense clearance in March, 1953, and the other in April, 1953.

McClellan said he will move to block any further investigation of the regular subcommittee until the "housecleaning" and the "alleged threats" to subcommittee members.

The later included a sharp change of wind last Friday between Roy M. Cohn, McCarthy's chief counsel, and the Democrats, in which Cohn reportedly threatened to "get" Jackson.

McClellan said there were "alleged threats" but he wouldn't elaborate.

Asked if any of the threats addressed to him, McClellan said: "Nothing I took seriously. I took a message I couldn't pass to you but I don't know whether the (threat) was aimed at me."

Would Seek Economy, Not Taxes
LITTLE ROCK (P)—L. Woens Trussell, Dallas County's representative, yesterday said he would recommend more economy in government as a means of avoiding tax increases.

he Fordyce legislator, chairman of the Legislative Joint Audit Committee, said "Arkansians want to know the bottom of the barrel has been scraped before new taxes are added."

In a resolution, the representative suggests that the legislative auditor and his staff review all the audit reports that have been made.

The resolution points out that recommendations for elimination of unnecessary expenditures could then be made from the review.

"It already is apparent that the demands for funds from the public schools and other state agencies will be greater than present appropriations," he said.

Trussell said the only alternative "is to have more efficient collection of present taxes and to eliminate waste of public funds."

The Legislative Joint Audit Division, by law, is prohibited from recommending sources of taxes. The Division, however, is required to make recommendations concerning ways to avoid unnecessary expenditures.

A survey of local school districts was requested by Senator Ellis M. Fagan of Little Rock. Fagan requested the legislative auditor to determine "how many of them are making an effort to equalize property assessments."

"I understand," he said, "that we are encouraging districts not to raise funds at the local level by rewarding them money."

He said he thought we should ask the county treasurers about local taxes before we start talking about state taxes, he said.

U. S. Confirms Capture of 5 Americans

By LOUIS GUILBERT

HANOI, Indo-China (UP)—The United States announced officially today that Communist Indo-Chinese rebels had captured five Americans and sent Major Gen. John W. (Iron Mike) O'Daniel flying to the scene to investigate their seizure.

The Americans were Air Force technicians engaged in servicing French planes in Indo-China. Their capture first was reported without official confirmation yesterday from Hong Kong.

Charges Audit Group Padding Hotel Bills

By LOUIS GUILBERT

LITTLE ROCK (P)—State department employees have run up an excess lodging bill of $3,471.35, the Department of the Legislative Audit Division reported yesterday.

Reporting to the Joint Audit Committee of the Legislature, the Audit Division listed 1,007 hotel registrations which have not been verified. These violations of travel expenses came to $3,118.20.

In addition, the report said, employees listed incorrect payments for 359 days, with the difference between what they paid for lodging and what they received from the state totaling $353.15.

The audit stated that most of the violations took place before Jan. 1. It said some employees excused themselves on the grounds they had stayed with relatives but reported hotel bills instead.

Other expenses they actually incurred. Others said they substituted the hotel bills for mileage expenses which they were entitled to claim.

The maximum allowance for travel expenses is $6.50 a day, including meals, lodging and miscellaneous expenses.

According to Legislative Auditor Orval Johnson, some of his employees think the maximum allowance is inadequate in some parts of the state.

Brownell Lashes McCarthy Invitation

BALTIMORE (AP) Atty. Gen. Brownell said last night Sen. McCarthy's invitation to government employees to come to him with information, even information they are charged with keeping secret, 1. Threatens the classic American concept of separation of powers among Congress, the executive and the courts.

2. "Would substitute rule by an individual for government by law."

About 500 weekly newspaper editors and publishers attending the 80th annual convention of the National Editorial Association broke in to applaud when the attorney general declared:

"Anyone who attempts to put himself above the law, and invite government employees to turn over classified information relating to our national security, is tragically mistaken if he believes he is helping to protect our nation's safety."

"Nothing pleases the Communists more than to create division among the people on matters of national security, impair constitutional government, and encourage disobedience to the law."

Newcomers Grab Lead in Golf Meet

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

SPRINGFIELD, N. J. (AP) Whoever said tournament golf needed some new faces didn't reckon with the squarish, smiling face of William J. Patton who prefers to be called Billy Joe; the thin countenance of Bob Toski; the serious, blue-eyed look of Gene Littler; or the broad-browed head of Al Mengert.

These four, hardly more than numbers on the program to most of the huge opening day crowd at Baltusrol, were right up at the top of the list as the 54th National Open Golf Championship went into its second day. The faces that drew the crowds — Ben Hogan and Sam Snead — had to be content with more or less secondary roles.

Patton, the 32-year-old Morgan town, N. C., lumberman who probably gets more fun out of golf than any other tournament player breathed new life into an already tense tournament when he fired an opening round of 32-37-69 yesterday.

That was the only time tough Baltusrol's tournament par of 34-38-70 was beaten yesterday and Billy Joe had the time of his life doing it as he slugged and scrambled his way around the 7,027-yard lower course.

One stroke behind Patton came Littler, the 1953 amateur champion, who won't be 24 nor eligible to win money in PGA tournaments until July 27, the leading money winner of the pro circuit; and the 36-year-old Red Kroil No. 4 on the money list.

Defending champion Hogan and Ed Furgol, an experienced tournament player, were tied at 71 with 25-year-old Mengert, a pro less than two years.

Snead still suffering from a painful stiff neck and hitting some of his long shots badly, wound up in the 72 bracket with a flock of others, including three former champions Lew Worsham, Lloyd Mangrum and Gary Middlecoff.

It still was anybody's tournament and when someone asked Hogan if he'd settle for three more 71s he grimly replied:

"I won't settle for anything. I'm here to play. That's my business."

Fire Demolishes 5-Story Building

CHICAGO (UP) — An explosion-sparked fire all but demolished a five-story building in the heart of the Chicago Stockyards today and threatened to spread to other structures containing gas and oil.

At least 50 pieces of fire equipment were rushed to the sprawling yards to keep the blaze from spreading. Fire men trained streams of water on the endangered structures, which included three oil tanks.

The blaze swept through all five stories in two sections of the semi-circular Armour Feed Department plant, breaking through the roof and sending flames at least 200 feet in the air.

A plume of smoke towered 300 to 700 feet over the flames, fanned by a slight breeze, and billowed over the south side.

The most threatened structure was a semi-detached section of the feed plant containing stores of oil and grease. Its only protection from the burning structure was an 18-inch fire wall. No one was in the plant and no injuries were reported.

Man Arrested Following Fire

ARKADDELPHIA, Ark. (AP) Chief of Police Ed Bloomfield said yesterday he had arrested Reuben Connell of near Gum Springs in connection with a fire which caused estimated $35,000 damage.

The first broke out early Thursday morning. It gutted a body and paint shop and an adjoining TV appliance store.

Connell was picked up after tools and equipment believed taken from the body and paint shop were found in his car, Bloomfield said.

Entomologists say that three-quarters of the known kinds of animals are insects.

U. D. C. Meets
In Home of
Mrs. H. C. Whitworth

The Pat Cleburne Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confedereracy met Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. H. C. Whitworth. For the meeting, the entertaining rooms were decorated with arrangements of roses, daisies and blue hydrangeas.

The meeting was opened with the president, Mrs. Whitworth, presiding. Mrs. Gus Haynes led the ritual and the salute to the three flags, the U. S. flag, the Confederate flag, and the Arkansas flag, was given.

The secretary was instructed to write to Mrs. J. W. Butler in Washington, and thank her for the flag which she presented to the chapter in May.

The president asked for reports from all committees. It was announced that the state U. D. C. convention would be held in El Dorado, October 26 through 28, and delegates were elected. They were Mrs. Whitworth, Mrs. J. M. O'Neal and Mrs. Mary Duncan. Alternate delegates elected were Mrs. Sam Strong and Mrs. Pat Casey.

The nominating committee presented the following slate of officers for the year 1954-55: president, Mrs. J. M. O'Neal; first vice-president, Mrs. J. W. Branch; Mrs. H. C. Whitworth, second vice-president; Mrs. A. E. Slusser third vice-president; recording secretary, Mrs. G. P. Casey; treasurer, Mrs. J. M. Duffie; registrar, Mrs. Gus Haynes; recorder of crosses, Mrs. Herbert Lewallen; and historian, Mrs. Fred Cook. The nominating committee's selections were approved. Mrs. Slusser had charge of the program. She presented an original paper on "Jefferson Davis". The group recommended a com-mandatory postage stamp in honor of General Walker.

During the social hour, the hostess served ice cream and homemade cake to the members.

Stephens — Flint
Wedding Plans
Announced

At six o'clock on Sunday evening, June 20th, the marriage of Miss Billie Stephens and Mr. Edward Lee Flint will be solemnized in the Bruce Memorial Methodist Church in Blevins, with the Reverend Joe Hunter officiating.

Nuptial music will be provided by Miss Pat Patton of Smackover. The bride will be given in marriage by her father, Russell C. Stephens. Maid of honor will be Miss Connie Buckner of El Dorado, and candlelighters will be Miss Betty Jo Cole of Camden and Miss Rose Mary Kelly of West Memphis.

Jay Butler of Shreveport will serve as best man, and ushers will be Russell P. Stephens of Blevins, brother of the bride, Charles Flint of Greggton, Texas, brother of the groom, and Joe Cassidy of Magnolia.

There will be a reception in the church parlor immediately following the ceremony.

Oppenheimer's Life Sure to Be Suspicious

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — The life of Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, the atomic scientist, will be marked and lonely if the Atomic Energy Commission decides his government can no longer trust him with secrets.

But even a decision to trust him would guarantee him peace, for at least one congressional committee may investigate his case again.

The 50-year-old Oppenheimer directed the original A-bomb development. The AEC said yesterday it will rule this month whether he may be trusted with secrets in the future.

This is his unfolding story: Oppenheimer directed the A-bomb from 1942 until the war ended in 1945. From 1947 he has been one of a group of scientists advising the AEC on atomic problems, with access to the most delicate secrets.

He helped in writing this country's atomic disarmament plan, which Russia rejected. He had been adviser to the American delegation at the United Nations. Meanwhile, he has lived at Princeton, N. J., directing the Institute for Advanced Study.

One of the most important pieces of advice the government asked him for — this was in 1949 — was whether the United States should go all-out in making the H-bomb.

He was against the all-out idea answer many other scientists and some members of the AEC itself. He favored a balanced program of A-bomb weapons. On Jan. 31, 1950, former President Truman ordered all-out work on the H-bomb.

Oppenheimer was investigated by the government when Truman set up his program for checking on the loyalty of government employees. He continued to work on secret matters.

Then on April 27, 1953, President Eisenhower issued an order calling upon every department head to review every case in which there had been a full FBI field investigation, as there was in Oppenheimer's case.

On July 7, 1953, four days after Eisenhower had made him chairman of the five-man AEC Lewis L. Strauss ordered a review of Oppenheimer to see whether he was a security risk. This was in keeping with the President's general order of April 27.

Strauss had been a member of the AEC, but no chairman, in 1949 when Oppenheimer opposed the H-bomb. Strauss was one of those who favored going ahead with it. Early in December 1953, Strauss took to Eisenhower all the information the AEC had on Oppenheimer. The President ordered a "blank wall" to be placed between Oppenheimer and secret information.

On Dec. 23, 1953, Strauss told Oppenheimer he could resign his advisory job with the AEC or ask for hearings. The only way Oppenheimer could clear his name was to ask for a hearing. He did.

The AEC appointed a special three-man board: Gordon Gray, now president of the University of North Carolina and formerly secretary of the Army Dr. Ward V. Evans, professor of chemistry at Loyola University, Chicago; and Thomas A. Morgan, former president of the Sperry Corp.

Hearings began April 23. The board heard over half a million words of testimony from Oppenheimer.

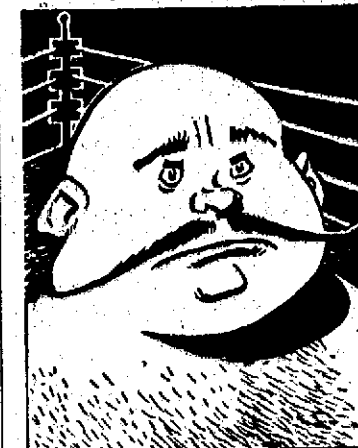

Judy, of Shreveport, are spending the week-end with their sisters, Mrs. Henry Hunt and Mrs. C. B. Russell.

Mrs. Sam Warmack has returned from a trip to Kansas City and Independence, Missouri, where she was the guest of friends and relatives.

DOROTHY DIX

Homesick Woman

Dear Miss Dix: My husband and I are 27, have been married 4 years and have three children. After our marriage we lived for a time in my home state, then came to a city about a thousand miles away. Both our families are established here, yet I am so homesick and miserable I can't eat, sleep or take any interest in my home. We were happy before we moved, and I want to go back home. We had lots of friends there; I have very few here. My husband makes more money than he did at home, but living expenses are higher, so we gain nothing. How can I convince my husband that I am so miserable? FAY

Longing For An Idea

Answer: Suppose you try diverting your thinking into other channels? Apparently your only thoughts are concerned with your homesickness. Your situation isn't really as hopeless or hapless as you are making it. Since your families, your husband and children are near you, you are actually homesick for an idea — a place. We all hold a deep abiding love for the home of our youth, yet every year thousands and thousands of people migrate for one reason or another. They continue to think lovingly of home, to look forward to a temporary or perhaps permanent return, but they don't make themselves sick over the transition.

Regarding your present situation as a challenge. You're in a city and among people new to you. Instead of being crushed by the thought of being uprooted, try to determine to make the most out of the circumstances to see that your children learn something from their new surroundings and that your husband has every opportunity, including serene domestic life, to improve his job. Keep looking forward to the day you can go back to your home town. Take a vacation.

West ran down the bank, pulled the woman from the water and applied artificial respiration until firemen and an ambulance arrived.

When the dripping rescuer returned to his car, he found it tagged for illegal parking on the bridge.

DOROTHY DIX

Homesick Woman

Don't think when you can't stop thinking of it as the only place in the world to live. In your present brooding, building up a dream of what home town was like, and you'll be quite surprised to find that reality is quite different from the vision. Put some of your energy into making new friends, becoming associated with church and social activities. In brief, develop yourself as an integral part of the community. Read some interesting novel books, by entertaining your mental horizon, you'll see the home town in better perspective.

Answer: You tried to be a mother just a bit too long. It's difficult to know when to stop playing mother to get and to become a woman. However, that's in the past. You're absolutely nothing for you to forget the man and find a new beat.

Dean Miss Dix: I am the mother of two children and happily married — except for one thing. My husband has a habit of carrying dresses around with him. He uses them. I know, since he wears every moment of them. He seems to be out of letting me know about it. Some addresses at a bank. Others are of women who know me. Am I right to let him know?

Answer: It's always a nuisance to be disturbed about this matter. It takes a serious turn. My husband actually gets the space of seeing you get angry. He's a practical joker and you're the one who never he things to do. You be indifferent to the situation. The addresses will be for you.

The show was over. The crowd was gone. All around the floor contestants were readying their rods to be driven or trucked home. Exhibitors were tearing down their displays and booths.

Sharon sat in the coupe, with the door open. Ricky sat on the floor, his back against a copper wire front wheel. The gold cup was beside him. First prize, street rod division. He felt ready to cry.

"It was your color scheme that did it," Ricky told her. "The guys wandered around and the first things they looked at were the rods with the top engines. When they see enough engines, they start looking at bodies, and when they do that, they get around to me. After all, you can install any engine you want in anything you've got, almost, and the engine's only half a sharp street rod. Guys want something different. Something out of this world, like the coupe."

"You look tired," Sharon said. "I haven't been able to rest," he said. "You know, I've had people who aren't hot rodders ask me about the coupe. One guy who wanted to know how much it would take for me to design him a new body for a Cadillac. I know what that means, Sharon. I'm on my way!"

"Oh, Ricky! That's wonderful!" "Wonderful! It's everything I've just can't believe it. Honest, I'm afraid I'll wake up and find out I'm dreaming."

"I was sure it would be this way," Sharon said loyally. "I don't know what I thought," Ricky said. "But if it hadn't been for you, I'd never gone through with it."

Sharon did not answer. She too was tired. Everything had worked out. Impossible everything. It was like a dream. He thought of the help Sharon had given him, and his parents, and the guys, and Merle, and Arnie. They had been so good to him he wanted to shed tears of gratitude. And at the same time he felt sick. It was over. The work, the tension, the worry, it was all over. And now he felt an awful letdown, almost a feeling of despair and tired.

A shrill whistle brought his head up, his eyes open. He scrambled to his feet as he saw them strolling toward him in their boots, Levis and black jackets. Jerry, Chub, Sherm, and Link.

"I see you looked them," Jerry said, his handsome face showing his pleasure. "We heard about it on the radio, so we thought we'd be your honor guard home."

"Those judges must have been blind," Chub exclaimed. "I saw 50 cars better than this broken-down heap. How much did you

Chicks Toss Chestnut Into President's Lap

By The Associated Press

The Memphis Chicks threw a hot chestnut into Southern Association President Charlie Hurth's lap today involving a tossed-out baseball and the touching of home plate.

League cleanings Atlanta completed a 3-1 and 3-2 sweep of a double-header at Memphis last night with a violently disrupted run in the eighth inning of the nightcap. Paul Rameone raced in with what turned out to be the winning Cracker run, and the Chicks afterwards claimed he failed to touch the plate.

In the meantime, Umpire Jack Kernan threw the ball out of play as unlit. While Memphis catcher Dewey Williams howled for a new ball, Rameone hustled back out of the Atlanta dugout and touched the plate. Then Williams got another ball and touched the plate with it himself, claiming that since the other ball had been discarded by the umpire, a tag on Rameone was not possible.

The three umpires decided that the run counted. Williams and Memphis Manager Don Gutteridge were heaved out for prolonged argument, and the Memphis fans showered bottles and cushions onto the field. Gutteridge fired a protest to league headquarters.

In other contests, Mobile beat Chattanooga 2-1, Little Rock topped Birmingham 7-1, and the Nashville Vols scored a 10-inning 5-3 decision over New Orleans.

Dick Donovan of Atlanta and Memphis' Bill Fischer swapped fourthers in the seven-inning opener.

The Crackers, who stretched their first place margin to five games, rallied to tie the nightcap in the seventh before plating the run that launched the fireworks in the eighth. Leo Cristante posted his 13th victory.

Veteran Peet Wojey hurled a two-hitter for his seventh victory for cellar-dwelling Mobile. His fast ball struck out 12 Chattanooga batters.

Loser Bob Ross whiffed nine in eight innings, and Verne Williamson fanned the side in the ninth. Former big leaguer Dick Rozek scattered seven hits and hurled a near shutout for Little Rock. Birmingham scored its lone run on an error in the eighth. The Braves sent five runs across in the fifth on three walks and a pair of hits.

pay to win" He grinned broadly, proud and pleased.

"Does everybody down home know I won?" Ricky asked.

"A couple of cats and dogs might not," Jerry said. "Well, you ready to go?"

"I'm waiting for Merle. We have to load the coupe on his truck."

"Awwwwww," Chub's lip curled with disappointment. "Int' you gonna drive home? We want a real parade."

Link spat. "Maybe it won't run under its own power," he said sarcastically.

"It might run better than you think," Ricky said grimly.

"No fights, you two," Jerry said. "I ain't fighting," Link said. He cast a contemptuous glance at the coupe. "But I got a right to say what I think. I think it's a gook wagon. All show and no stuff."

Ricky smiled. Link didn't know what was under the hood. He didn't know. He thought it was the same old engine. It was, mainly, but it had a three-pot manifold, Edelbrock high-compression heads, a 4-race cam, Kong ignition and a high-speed rear end.

"I know what you're driving, Link," Ricky said insolently. "But you don't know what I'm driving. You just take my word for it now—my coupe's got more stuff in the paint than yours has under the hood."

"Talks is cheap," Link said, his lips curling. He looked hard and mean.

"Wait until we have that drag strip in Delville," Ricky said. "You'll see."

"I think we're gonna get it too," Sherm said. "Everybody wants to join the DTA now, an dthe Mayor said if we can all keep out of trouble this winter, he'll see about the strip next spring. Boy, are we gonna have a slow-moving town!"

Ricky looked at Link's narrow, dark face. "You joined yet?"

"I'm no lousy kid. I drive the way I want to."

"You won't drag on our strip, then."

"If I don't, you won't have to run that gook wagon against me. Nice way to chicken out." He turned and walked away, spitting disdainfully. Ricky wanted to go after him and beat his brains out, but he kept his place. Link would try to spoil everything.

"Don't let him get your goat," Jerry said. "He's just mad because the guys are all following your lead. Let's go home."

"I need gas," Ricky said, his eyes still following Link.

Sharon took a troubled. "I thought Merle was coming with the truck."

Ricky shook his head, his eyes shining. "I'd like to drive back with the guys. You know something I've never driven the coupe since it was re-designed. Maybe Link was right. Maybe it won't run."

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By EAVIE TALBOT

GROSSINGER N. Y. N. — By a happy coincidence of timing, it was possible to hold here at Rocky Marciano's training camp the first annual meeting of one of the most exclusive little boxing clubs in the country.

The membership is confined to those fearless experts who picked Roland LaStarza to defeat Rocky in their championship duel here last fall. Four of them chanced to be visiting the Marciano menage at the same hour, and no time was lost in calling the doughy, if nameless group together.

All four, as it turned out, still had the same jobs they held nearly a year ago when the predicted that LaStarza the boxer, would outsmart the crude puncher, Marciano for 15 rounds and win the decision. None of them had even been threatened.

"I still think it was a good pick," insisted the largest member of the group, stubbornly. "I had LaStarza well ahead on points until Rocky caught him in the 11th. I thought he was outboxing Rocky good."

"That's right, agreed a lodge brother. "I never apologized to anybody. The only place we went wrong on Roland was not realizing he had gone stale. He came in three or four rounds less than anybody expected him to. Didn't you think he looked stale?"

"Yeah, I thought so," put in a new voice, "but only after Rocky started hitting him in the belly toward the end. Those punches made him plenty stale. This guy hits awful hard. He keeps on hitting hard for a long time too."

There ensued a considerable discussion of LaStarza's merits, as compared with those of Ezzard Charles, who is to sample the Marciano speedoos on Thursday night at Yankee Stadium. The membership agreed without a dissenting vote that Charles is a far fiercer challenger than Roland was.

"This guy's been around," pointed out the delegate from Chicago. "He can box and he can punch. Compared with him, LaStarza was just a good amateur. Roland can't be much when he loses to that fat British fellow, Don Cockell."

"Any of you fellows going to pick against the champ this time?" asked one of the group.

The man looked around hopefully. "Still dead game if he could get a little moral support. All he received from his fellow members were three emphatic shakes of the head, all negative. One had the gloomy feeling that the Marciano Can Be Liked Club was a dying organization."

The GRIM REAPER

Do you believe in God, the church, heaven, hell? Are you ready to die? If God should say, "this day thy soul shall be required of thee," how would it be with you? Great preparation must be made if the harvest is abundant. Are YOUR treasures stored in heaven or in your barn? When the GRIM REAPER comes to AVENGE, will you be ready? Or are you one who scoffs the church, derides God, and laughs at death? If so the unspeakable bottomless pit awaits you. The GRIM REAPER will not come to AVENGE, but rather to REVENGE. There may be time yet—COME TO CHURCH.

Lutherans Take Up Birth Control

LOS ANGELES (AP) A report favoring birth control comes before delegates to the Augustana Lutheran Church 95th Synod for discussion today. The Executive Council has recommended its adoption.
A vote on the subject was deferred last year. The report on "responsible parenthood" was begun in 1952 by the Commission on Social Relations of the American Lutheran Conference, a federation of five church bodies including Augustana, and has been revised since last year, a spokesman said, to emphasize the scriptural basis. The report states in part: "To enable them the more thankfully to receive God's blessing and reward a married couple may so plan and govern their sexual relations that any child born to their union will be desired both for itself and in relation to the time of its birth."
"The means which a married pair uses to determine the numbers and the spacing of the births of their children are a matter for them to decide with their own consciences, on the basis of competent medical advice and in a sense of accountability to God."
